FOREWORD

THE end of our high school career has descended swiftly upon us. How like a pleasant dream it has passed, and left us alumni, beginning to seek other interests and new friends without the halls of our beloved school. If by chance, when we are in the midst of these new interests, we open this book, and live again, with its aid, the happy moments spent at Tech—recall in our memories the many faces that have slowly faded from them—then we shall feel that our labor has not been in vain, and that we have furnished for our class an enduring record of our school life.

THE TECHITE 1924

Thomas F. Warren, Jr.
Editor-in-Chief

Robert R. Welsh
Business Manager

THE APPEARANCE of this issue of The Techite marks the fourth year that the book has appeared under this name. The staff endeavored in its work to create an annual worthy of the school and the class which it represents, and at the same time to stimulate in the undergraduates a new interest for supporting future annuals. We have not made the many changes that we had hopes of doing at the beginning of our work, but nevertheless we feel as though we have made as many as we possibly could and still keep safely within the small margin of our financial resources.

We greatly appreciate the splendid support that was given by the class and was rendered by the undergraduates and the faculty, for it was the support and cooperation of the entire school that has made this issue possible. We also sincerely thank our faculty advisors, Miss Lilian McColm and Miss Louise Smith, for their hard work and guiding advice that was greatly valued by the entire staff.

To those that shall follow us we wish the best of success, and hope that our mistakes will be found and corrected, and that all future yearbooks will mark steps closer to the goal of perfection which we have striven to attain.

CLASS OF JUNE, '24

Senior Class History

"While thus through all the stages thou hast push'd
Of treeship—first a seedling, hid in grass;
Then twig; then sapling and then the giant tree."
—Cowper

HUS THE CLASS OF JUNE, '24, has attained the height of its final position and may you, oh, underclassmen, profit from the example of our evolution and development.

To look back upon our rookie days recalls, for the great part, many humorous incidents. How well we remember our foolish blunders and ridiculous appearance, little girls with long hair (alas, where can it be found now), and big boys with short trousers. In those days we were only seedlings in the school, but it was, however, not so much of a joke. It was a hard struggle to overcome the prejudice established against us, but we won the admiration of the rest of the school, by showing our loyalty to Tech, and by our activities in field, drill, and class.

Our brave beginning as Freshmen made the journey through our Sophomore year considerably smoother, and by our enthusiastic participation in all of the activities, we became more than "twigs" to Tech, and were actually forming an excellent reputation for ourselves.

Our Junior year marked another era of growth for us. The organization of the class and election of officers during that year made us swell with importance, and we blossomed out into society by a very successful dance. It was then that individual talent and ability won its just recognition and certain names in dramatics, cadets, and athletics became renowned.

Then came the climax and last stage of our growth—Seniors. We were by this time possessing excellent opinions of ourselves, and thought with pride of certain members of the class. Two elections of class officers were held during our Senior year. In the seventh semester the following officers were chosen: John Schellhaas, President; Charles Pugh, Vice-President; Alice Chatelain, Secretary; Stafford Jones, Treasurer; Ross Guthrie, Sergeant-at-Arms. For the eighth semester the officers were: John Schellhaas, President; Ross Guthrie, Vice-President; Alice Chatelain, Secretary; Stafford Jones, Treasurer; Charles Pugh, Sergeant-at-Arms. Class Night officers also were elected at this time. These were Grace Laleger and John Daly, Prophets; Charles Irelan, Lawyer, and Lawrence Manning, Historian.

Seldom has so much enthusiasm ever been displayed in athletics as this year. This is largely due to the winning of the football championship with the help of our classmates, Captain Charles Pugh, Gooch, Cline, Adams, Olds, Brown, and April. Members of our class who worked on the basketball team were Captain Donald Adams, Gooch, and Raffael DeMarco. Wilson, April, and Dove represent the class on the baseball team, and if they're not actual "Babe Ruths," they're a splendid imitation. The names of Pugh, Fravel, Jones, and Bolton in track need no introduction.

Meanwhile the field of athletics has been occupied not only by boys, for certain of our girls also figured in the limelight. Who other than Dorothy Baumgarten, "Kay" Baxter, Anne Byler, and Christine Block helped to make the Senior Girls' team such a success? Several of the girls are out for the swimming team, and Anne Byler is the Captain of the girls' rifle team.

Spring plays, dramatic club plays, and the Christmas play all have had members of our class starring in them. John Daly, James Whisman, John Schellhaas, Alice Chatelain, Grace Lalager and Elizabeth Robbins have attracted much attention for their dramatic ability.

Was there ever a year when "Tech Life" was a better paper? We answer in the negative, and affirm our answer by giving as members of the staff the names of Gerard Snell, Editor; Kathryn Baxter, Associate-Editor; Dorothy Baumgarten, General News; John Murphy, Business Manager; Dorothy Webb, William Press, John Savage, Harry Fravel, Grace Lalager, and James Whisman, all efficient helpers.

Those representing the class at various times in the G. O. were: James Whisman; President; Charles Pugh and Ward Greenwood, Vice-Presidents; Dorothy Webb, Secretary; Lester Baird, James Whisman, and Lawrence Manning, Representatives.

Note the numbers of the class who have made cadets so prominent this year: Lester Baird, the Colonel, is ours; Charles Ireian is Lieutenant Colonel; Hampton, Garner, Dulin and Deckelman are Majors; Guthrie, Clements, Hugin, Demson, Evans and Manning are Captains of our companies.

The remarks about our cheer leaders for the past year have been more than complimentary. Here, once more does our class have shining stars in Greenwood, Baird and Staley.

Thus we could go on almost indefinitely with the activities our class members are engaged in—Agora, Arts Club, French Club, and Radio Club. Participation in activities has not kept members of the class from maintaining high averages in scholarship, for the honor roll has had near the top the names of John Daly, Eliek Norris, Hughes Evans, Lester Baird, Dorothy Baumgarten, and Gerard Snell.

Our glance over the past gives us the satisfaction of realizing that we have served Tech faithfully and efficiently. We have become a part of her, laughed with her joys, and wept with her sorrows, gone through moments of depression, and come out again victoriously with her periods of success. But does Tech owe us anything for our service? Far from it—we are more than indebted to her for what she has done for us. Never again will we profit more from our experience and learning. It thus becomes a moment of deep regret when we must take our farewell of her whom we have loved and tried to serve.

A demure little maiden is Kay
Who likes well to have her own way;
Though not very tall,
You'll find she leads all,
For she's capable, clever and gay.

BLANCHARD, DORIS

Here is one of our social successes,

'Twould be better she freely confesses.

There was a young lady named "Chris,"
Who's a very athletic young miss;
She is slender and tall
And has charms, one and all,
This pretty young lady named "Chris."

Long with us he has stayed
Or attention ne'er payed
To his teachers when in classroom he sat.

She gets dandy marks,
Tho how she can do it does stump us.

BURN, LESTER T.

Cadets 1 yr.; Section President 1 Sem.; S. O. S. Rep. 1 Sem.; Swimming '23.

Now, Lester's a studious chap,
Who keeps a lot under his cap;
It's not hair that we mean,
But brains, as we've seen,
That give "Les" his place on the map.

BURR, WARREN W. (Aaron)

Entered in Fifth Sem.; Swimming Team '23; Tech Life Rep. 2 Sem.; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

Our Anne is very athletic.
We also believe she's prophetic.
A writer is she,
Of limericks, and see—
Her lines are truly esthetic.

BYRNE, EMMA E. (Sunny)

Entered in Fifth Sem.; Dramatic Club '23, '24; Section President 1 Sem.; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

This lady is gay, debonair,
And crowned with abundant red hair,
They all call her "Sunny,"
It's often quite funny,
The way she protests, "It's not fair."

The next on our list is named Vance,
When at a young girl he did glance,
He'd play on his cello,
With notes sweet and mellow,
In an effort his suit to advance.

CHATELAIN, ALICE

Our Jack in dramatics does shine;

He takes the chief lead,
Now ladies, take heed!
For Johnny you'll some day all pine.

Oh, Leonard had talent that's rare
As a singer he's surely all there;
As a great Nanki-Poo,
And as Robin Hood, too,
He was dashing and quite debonaire.

DECKELMAN, JOHN J.

Cadets 1 yrs.; Major Second Battalion; First Honorable Mention; Best Exp. Private; Officers' Club '21; Honor Medal Cadets.

"I never trouble trouble, until trouble troubles me."

DE MARCO, RAFFAELE

Cadets 2 yrs.; Basketball '23, '24; Baseball 1 yr.; Section President 1 Sem.

To De Marco all study's a bore,
Over books he never will pore;
He'd really be bright
If he'd study at night,
But the very idea makes him sore.

DENISON, EDWARD U. (Denny)

There was a young fellow named "Denny,"
Of friends in the school he had many,
In every school function,
If drama or luncheon
He went, if it took his last penny.

DOVE, FRANKLIN WILLIAM (Shorty)

Baseball '23, '24

Oh, "Shorty's" a wonderful boy,
"Father's Pride" is he, and "Mother's Joy."
He surely looks cute
In his baseball suit,
Tho to tell him so, does him annoy.

DRAYTON, WILLIAM H. JR.

Cadets '18, '19; Winning Co. H, '19.

"The world knows nothing of its greatest men."

DRISSEL, ROGER ROSCOE

Track '21; Baseball '22; Orchestra '22; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

Our George seems painfully slow,
A very few girls seems to know,
But you can't go by that;
As a tire he's not flat.
But has more than a few on the go.

DULIN, BERNICE

Dramatic Club '24; Glee Club '24; "Chimes of Normandy"; Spring Play '24; Swimming Team '24; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

Bernice is well known around Tech;

To keep away rats,
And an uncle who's always on deck.

DYNES, WILLIAM ANDREW

"Men of few words are the best men."

emerge."

Chimes of Normandy'; "Robin Hood" '21; Agora '22; Dramatic Club '24; Friendship Club '22, '23; Rifle Team '22; Swimming Team '24; Tech Life Staff '24; Techite Staff '24

Here's Alma who's somebody's best;
With beauty she surely is blest;
She is taken for Spanish,
Which we think is a mistake;
As a Yankee, she passes the test.

EVANS, FREDERICK HUGHES

A. O. S. Rep. 1 Sem.; Honor Roll 8 Sems.
Hugh Evans we hear is so bright
His marks, they are clear out of sight,
In Math he's first rate,
And he never comes late,
So we think he must stay up all night.

EVANS, WILLIAM ELLSWORTH, JR.

Cadets 4 yrs.; Winning Battalion '21; Winning Band '21; Band Medal '23; Honor Medal, Cadets; Officers' Club '24; Agora '24; Opera Club '23, '24; A. O. S. Rep. 1 Sem.; Orchestra 3 yrs.; Captain Band '24; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

"Good nature and good sense must ever join."

Graduating in 3 1-2 yrs.; Tennis '24.
"We cannot estimate what there is in a quiet fellow."

FORD, CHARLES I.

Entered in third semester; Cadet Band '21, '22; Best Private, Band '22.

In dramatics Ford can't be suppressed;
In history he can do his best;
In business, we say,
He'll make his own way,
And lead everyone of the rest.

FRAVEL, JOHN HAWLEY

"A great deal must be within since so little has ever come out."

FRAVEL, WILLIAM HARRY

Track 4 yrs.; T Club '23, '24; Basketball '24; Tech Life Staff '22, '23, '24; Sports Editor '23, '24; T. S. P. C. '22, '23; Spring Play '22.

Harry Fravel's an athlete 'tis true;
There's nothing in sport he can't do;
He's bright in his studies,
He's liked by his "buddies,"
For he sees ev'rything he does through.

FUNGER, LOUIS

Cadets 4 yrs.; Corporal's Medal '22; Second Lieutenant Co. A '24; Officers' Club '24.

"To have friends is to be one."

GAINES, CHARLETON MT. JOY

We all get such fun out of Gaines;
We don't even care when it rains;
For he's there with his jokes,
All the "skits" and the "pokes,"
We forget all our troubles and pains.

GANBIN, LILLIAN (Lill)

Swimming Team '24.

Lillian is happy and gay,
Always ready for work or for play;
Each task she will meet
With a smile that is sweet;
She has a most wonderful way.

GARNER, JOHN DANIEL (Johnny)

Cadets 4 yrs.; First Honorable Mention Private '21; Second Best Corporal's Medal '22; First Lieutenant Battalion Adjutant '23; Winning Battalion '23; Winning Regiment '23; Major Brigade Adjutant '24; Financial Manager "Adjutant" '21; Baseball '22, '23; Basketball '22, '23; Football '22; Agora '23; Dramatic Club '22, '23; Spring Play '22, '23.

There're some things that we want to know,
To the office why does John go?
On the staff he is second,
Brigade Adjutant, we reckon;
There must be some reason—just so.

GERACI, PHILIP CHARLES

Cadets '20; Rifle Team 4 yrs.; T. S. P. C. '22; Orchestra 4 yrs.; Concert Master '21; Honor Medal, Orchestra.

Our Philip's a fiddler fine,
He's one of the talented kind,
Of great note is he,
Very bright, so you see,
For Phil makes the most of his time.

GESSFORD, ROSS KERR (Sheik)

Spring Play '23; Radio Club '21; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

"Is this a diploma that I see before me?
I have thee not, and yet I see thee still."

GOLDBERGER, EDGAR (Goldie)

Our "Goldie" is constantly gay;
He wears a big smile every day;
For with plenty of "pals,"
Both in boys and "gals,"
He's a right to be happy, I'll say!

But in physics he's really quite dead.

PARKS, WELLMAN WHITE

Oh, a regular fellow is Jim,
We all take our hats off to him;
His acting's an art
Whatever his part,
And he leads the G. O. with a vim.

WILLETT, MARION

Little Marion is pretty and sweet,
She's the nicest you ever could meet,
There's some one, I say,
From just 'cross the way,
Who thinks that she can't be beat.

WILLIAMS, WALTER MILTON

Football '21, '22; Cadets '19, '20.

Walter William's a sheik, so we're told,
With the girls, he's a cave man so bold;
His dark eyes and hair
Are the hope and despair
Of the fair sex who him do behold.

THE TECHITE 1924

WILSON, BRAINARD DOUGLAS

Baseball '22, '23, '24; Track '22; Basketball '24; Honor Roll 2 Sems.

"Brains" Wilson is, without a doubt,
A fine young man to have about
In the spring of the year,
Then Tech has no fear
That in baseball, he'll be put out.

WILSON, SAMUEL ELLWOOD (Froggy)

Honor Roll 2 Sems.; Techite Staff '24.

This Wilson's a draftsman of fame
In architecture he's to make a name.
He can also typewrite,
Which he does with his might,
How he pounds those poor keys! 'tis a shame.

WOLF, HARRY LOUIS

Cadets 4 yrs.; Second Lieutenant Co. C '24; Second Place Co. H '22; Officers' Club '24; French Club '22, '24.

Though he's not very tall
He yet wins them all,
And he has a new girl every week.

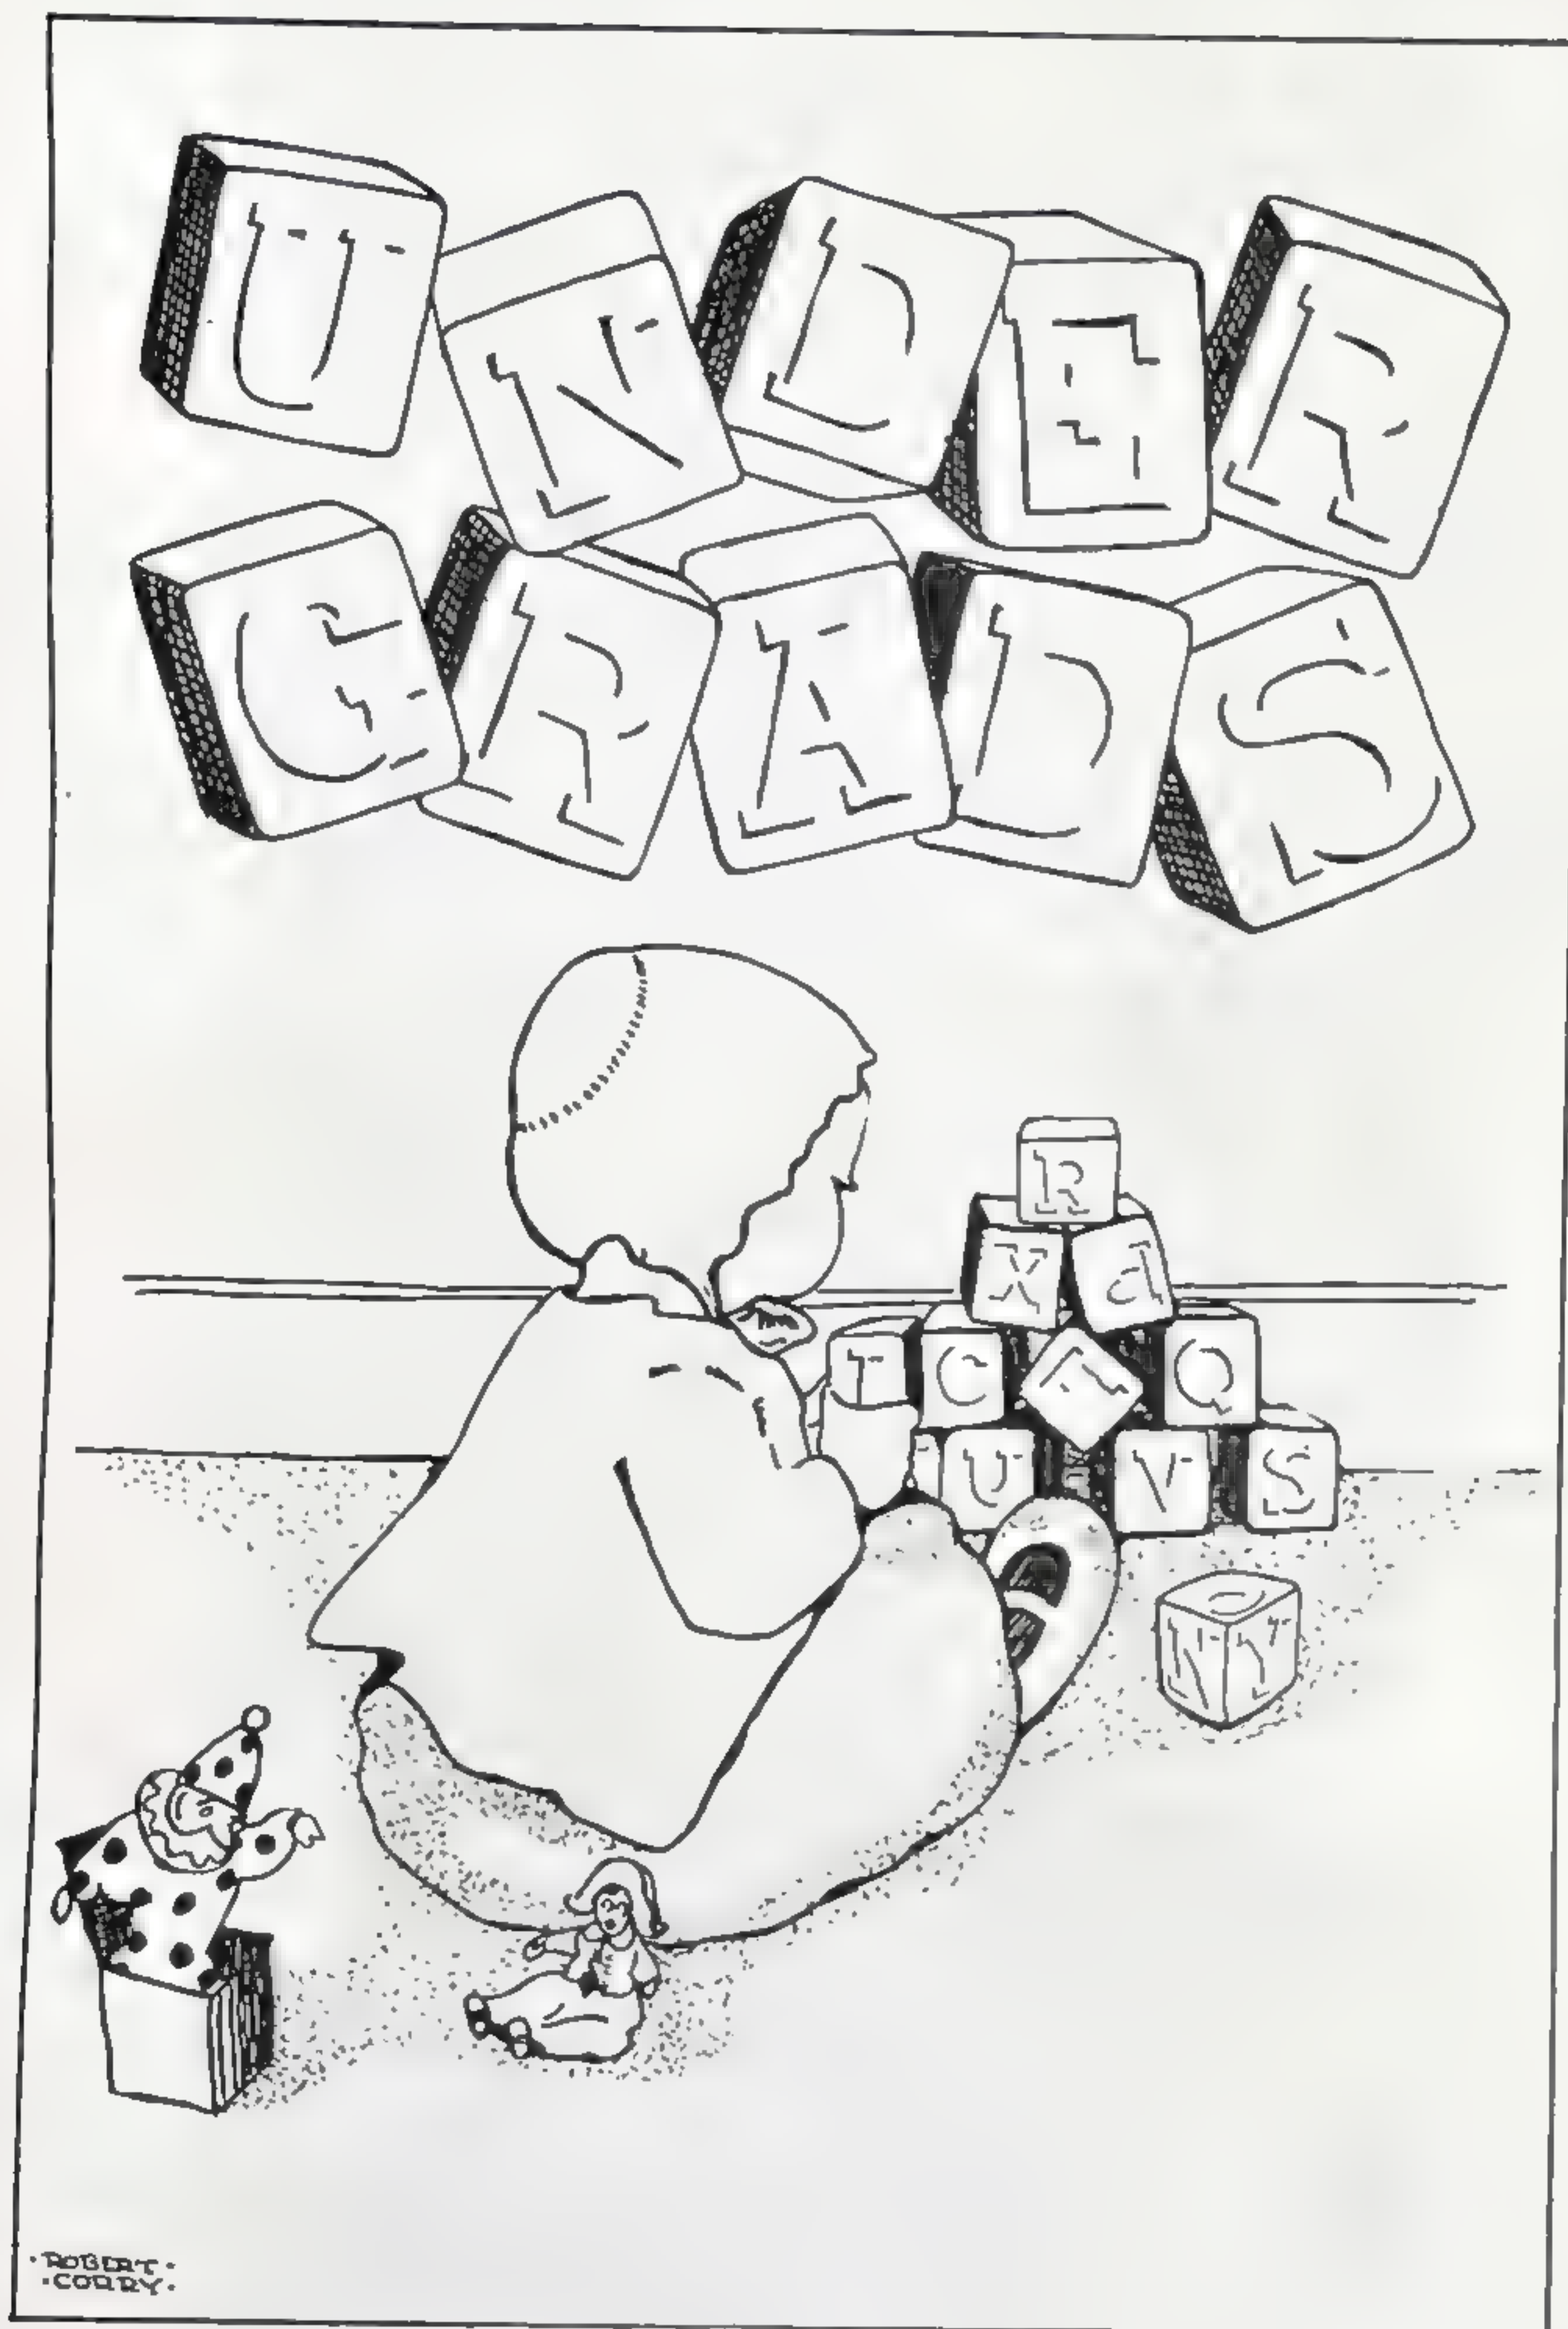

WOODWARD, RICHARD H.

Rifle Team '19, '20; Tech Life Staff '19; Spring Play '22.

"Either I find a way or I will make one."

PAPPAS, ANDREW

CLASS OF FEBRUARY, '23

Seventh Semester History

ALTHOUGH it has been over three years now since we first entered the portals of Tech, we can well remember the feelings that came over us as we beheld, for the first time, the records of those who had represented our school in the past. As we gazed upon the awe-inspiring seniors, our rookie minds but dimly realized that the burden of upholding the spirit and honor of Tech would some day rest on our shoulders. We soon imbibed the old Tech spirit and determined to do our best to uphold the high standard set for us.

The feminine membership of our class is a source of great pride and joy to us. Although they are few in number, basketball, tennis and swimming teams have been well supported each year by Elizabeth Harry, Louise Hoeke, Christine Block, Thelma Thompson and Ruth Parsons. Much to our sorrow Elizabeth Harry, Louise Hoeke, Helen Thran, Doris Blanchard, Ela Sherier and Christine Block obtained credits enough to graduate in June. Ruth Parsons was elected president of the Social Service Organization for this year.

The boys of the class have been especially active in athletics, and the honor of Tech has been upheld on the gridiron by Captain-elect Kessler, Wood, Bobys, Adelman, Rice, Brown and Tew. Those who have made a name for themselves in track are Wood, Pisani and Fenwick. Adelman, Tew and Bobys represented us on the baseball team.

Evans and Stoll are honor medal men, Evans for G. O. and Stoll for Spring Play electrical effects. We have been well represented on the honor roll every semester. In the sixth semester we elected Dyer, president; Elizabeth Harry, vice-president; Helen Thran, secretary, and Stoll, treasurer. Upon Dyer's resigning Detwiler was elected president.

A ballroom she enhances
As so gaily she dances;
While wallflowers sag in the jaw.

When head of our section,
We praised his direction.

But I can't find out why
Because he is always so still.

There is a young fellow named Evans
Whose leadership's known to the heavens;
He cuts short on laughter
And gets what he's after,
So he's busy as sixes and sevens.

FENWICK, LAWRENCE

This young man, they say, is so bright
That he never goes out much at night.
Lest the stars he should hide,
And with people collide.
In class he is brilliant—quite.

FERGUSON, ROBERT A.

Entered in Third Semester; Baseball '23.

Our Ferguson is very bright
And he never says anything trite.
He increases his size
With big custard pies,
As all of us know by his height.

GEARY, DANIEL

Who seems to be always quite weary,
For it seems to be Fate
That he gets to school late,
But in English he's clever and cheery.

HASKELL, FRANK B., JR.

Radio Club '22, '23; Rifle Club '22; Honor Roll 1 Sem.

And leave him in the sky,
For his marks are to him a great joy.

HEIZER, DONALD M.

Cadets '21; Opera Club '24; Glee Club '22, '23, '24;
Spring Play '24; Golf Club '23.

As he lives in the "sticks"
And is what we may call a late riser.

KESSLER, GORDON A.

Football '22, '23; Track '23, '24; T Club '23, '24; Section President 1 Sem.

The ends are all pale in the face

In his class he's not fine,
But can break any line,
His tackle for the team sets the pace.

LANK, MAE FLORENCE

A certain young lady named Flo
Will some day drag in lots of dough.
At hist'ry she's a shark,
She can trace from the ark
Ancestors whom some like to show.

LIGHTFOOT, CHARLES E.

Who talks as though blown with a bellow,
But his curly dark hair
And his blue eyes so rare
Make one want to greet him with "Hello."

Cadets '21, '22, '23; Winning Battalion '21; Second Place Company '22; Second Place Battalion '22.

Who is, I am told, quite some kid;
He drives a small car
And comes from afar.
To school just in time does he skid.

MARSHALL, THOMAS (Tommy)

There is a young fellow named Marshall

At electric repair
He's considered a bear.

Is proved by his record as "sartin'."
Full of fun as a bear,
Yet from 'lectric repair
He knows no such thing as a partin'.

A good-looking chap is friend Meeker,
A girl is quite pleased if he'll sheik her.
His red ties we all know
For we hear them, and so
We wish that the colors were weaker.

MYERS, J. NELSON

Of whom all good things are the truth.
She's great on all sports
But her swimming reports
Do please our athletic sweet-tooth.

PISAPIA, EDWARD A.

Section President 2 Sema.; Honor Roll 2 Sema.

Of knowledge this lad has a ton,
I know that this sounds like a pun,
But he's never flunked yet,
On his marks, I would bet,
And that would give us all fun.

POLLEY, CHARLES EDWARD (Snowball)

Dramatic Club '22, '23; Spring Play '22, '24; S. O. S. Rep. 2 Sema.; T. S. P. C. '22.

There is a young man we call Polly,
Who is, at all times, very jolly;
At new dancing a bear,
He's most debonaire,
And he burns all his incense to Folly.

REEVES, JOHN

"Just as quiet as can be."

ROOT, NEWMAN S. (Butts)

Section President 2 Sems.; Tech Life Rep. 1 Sem.

To so quickly back out
In case the guard's whistle did toot.

ROSS, LEWIS U.

Entered in Fifth Semester; Cadet Band '22, '23; Orchestra '22, '23; S. O. S. Rep. 1 Sem.

An active young fellow is Ross,

With a trombone he'll blow
Strident tunes fast or slow,
While dancers their plaudits will toss.

ROTH, WALTER A.

Entered in Third Semester; Cadets '20, '21; T. S. P. C.
'22; Dramatic Club '22.

That did all the killin',
And then much relieved we all feel.

SECHRIST, PAUL

Cadets '22, '23; Radio Club '23; Rifle Team '24; Spring Play '22

Who owns quite a masterful fist;
When he wrestles in section
Things go every direction
And much good furniture's missed.

SHERMAN, ALBERT J.

Football '23; Tech Life Rep. 1 Sem.

This fellow never does mutter
But talks loud when his heart's all a-flutter;

But sits in the dark,
And is said to adore maids that stutter.

SHERMER, GRACE

She's splendid in class
Above others does pass,

SOUTHER, RANDOLPH S.

Cadets '22, '23, '24; Rifle Team '24; Glee Club '22; S. O. S. 1 Sem.

In math better still,
And such is the versatile Souther.

STOCKMAN, LEROY LEONARD (Stock)

Cadets '22, '23, '24; Tech Life Rep. 1 Sem.; Agora '24; Sergeant-at-Arms; Tech Life Staff '24.

Whose waking hour sure does appall us,
But he lives out of town
And that's why he's down
Long before our mothers do call us.

Telegraphic receivers,
And just what will crash in a bank.

WOLFINGER, STUART

The Year in Activities

HIS year has been a big one for almost all of Tech's activities, both for those which were already existing and those newly started. The Glee, Dramatic and Debating Clubs all have a larger membership this year than ever before, and the school paper has gotten out some excellent issues. The French Club and Rifle Team were reorganized this year, and a new activity was started when the Art Club was instituted.

The Dramatic Club and the Glee Club have both given performances worthy of Tech organizations. The former especially, under the leadership of its president, John Daly, has put on many productions, most of them minor, of course, and free to the students. The Dramatic Club's big play, "Honor Bright," was very successful. The Glee Club, with Floyd Gessford as president, has produced very successfully two operas, "The Chimes of Normandy," and the Spring Play, "Robin Hood."

Tech Life has had a very successful year. Its form was changed and enlarged, and the number of subscriptions has been larger than ever before. It has endeavored to maintain a more aggressive policy this year, that is, a policy not only of reporting school conditions and activities, but of improving them by constructive criticism.

Our orchestra, under Mr. Walten's efficient directorship, has once more concluded a successful year. Its playing at assemblies and special occasions has been excellent, and every Tech student is proud of such an orchestra.

The Agora this year did something which it had not done for many years—participated in an inter-high debate. Although it lost to Central, it did its best, and it will do better next time.

The French Club's "Parlez vous" were both entertaining and helpful to its members. The Art Club no doubt will draw many pretty pictures, and who can tell what famous artists some members of that club will be soon.

A school that has many activities is bound to have spirit; and this is characteristic of Tech. This year has been a successful one in that respect, and it is hoped that next year and in the years to come, Tech's organizations may be just as prosperous.

Since its reorganization in 1922, the society has steadily increased in popularity and efficiency.

Three public debates were held during this year. The most important was the debate with Central on the question of the restriction of immigration. Principals for this debate were Jack Halam, Dorothy Baumgarten and Henry Montague, with William Evans as an alternate. Earlier in the semester Ernest Woodrow, Henry Montague, and Jack Halam were chosen to debate Dr. Hemelt's 5th Semester English Class. A team composed of Dorothy Baumgarten, Jack Halam, and Borris Klivitzky debated the Public Speaking Class.

Honor Medals for Agora work were awarded to Dorothy Baumgarten, Ernest Woodrow, Jack Halam, and Henry Montague.

The members and officers of the Agora are to be commended for their faithful work which in a large measure was due to the efficient guidance of their adviser, Dr. Hemelt. It is our hope that the Agora will continue to be an important factor in Tech's school life.

THE CAST OF "ROBIN HOOD"

Tech's Spring Play, 1924

Robin Hood

URING the past year the committee in charge of the annual productions decided to institute a new custom in spring plays. Henceforth in order to develop fully, not only embryo John Barrymores, but budding Carusos as well, they decided to alternate a drama with an opera.

Last year, "The Road to Yesterday" was given; so when the 1924 spring play was selected, an opera was chosen.

"Robin Hood," the popular comic opera by DeKoven, was decided upon and preparations for a stellar production were begun. The ensemble of 150 was lead by Leonard Davis in the title role, with Dorothy Reddish as Maid Marion, Helen Walten as the youthful Alan-a-Dale, and John Schellhaas as the crafty Sheriff of Nottingham. James Whisman, John McDonald, William Preston, Carmen Collier and Floyd Gessford filled supporting roles to the first four. The large chorus rounded out the cast and provided a harmonious setting for the principals.

The story of "Robin Hood" is too well known to dwell upon, but let it suffice to say that Robin himself did not portray a more vivid and realistic picture than did Leonard Davis.

Unlike former years, the scenery was not made at Tech, but was rented from outside sources, and professional scene shifters were employed. This, coupled to the manner with which the entire cast conducted themselves, gave the audience the impression that professionals were before them.

Too much credit cannot be given to Miss Keene and Mr. Walten for their excellent services on the vocal and instrumental scores, which did much to make "Robin Hood" an artistic as well as a financial success.

THE CAST OF "HONOR BRIGHT"

DRAMATIC CLUB

Officers

President—John Daly

Vice President—John Schellhaas

Secretary—Janet Frost

Treasurer—Edward Denison

Sergeant-at-Arms—Curtiss Draper

Probably in no year since its organization, has the Dramatic Club made so much use of the word “act” as it has this year by the capable “acting” of its many “active” members.

From the beginning of the year much enthusiasm has been displayed. The number of people that attended the meetings was so large that the necessity arose of holding the meetings in the assembly hall. However, this afforded many advantages, among them being better conditions under which the club’s programs might be presented.

These programs for the past year have been exceptionally good. Many one act plays, produced and directed by the students, proved most successful and entertaining. The Dramatic Club obtained publicity through these sources, and audiences never were lacking at the presentation of any of their programs.

The largest undertaking during the year was the production of “Honor Bright,” a very delightful comedy. Contrary to practice, two casts were chosen, each one presenting it one night. This was done in order that the unusual variety of talent in the club might be put to use. It is needless to say that financially and otherwise, the presentations of “Honor Bright” were a great success.

The club’s activities have not, however, been confined to dramatics. Their one great social success of the season employed the novel idea of combining a supper, play, and dancing for one occasion.

The success of the Dramatic Club for the past year was greatly due to its faculty advisor, Mrs. Eda B. Frost, and also to its officers.

The Glee Club has planned its annual concert this year. Under the guidance of the Faculty Director, Miss Florence Keene, the club has worked hard. Its popularity is attested by its large membership, the enrollment now being sixty, an increase of twenty over last year.

The club has also had part of the members make their production, "The Glee Club of 1924," a success. When "The Glee Club" is made up of the members, and through the help of dramatic production, the club has made a very successful show of itself.

The officers have upheld the high spirit, and all the efforts of the club proved their excellent cooperation. The progress in the last year assures us that the Glee Club of 1924 will not be so soon forgotten.

SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL (S. O. S.)

The S. O. S. revised its constitution at the beginning of this past school year, and with the approval of the G. O. elected its officers at the same time that the council did. Ruth Parsons was elected President of the organization and Horace Hampton became Secretary-Treasurer.

Very good work was done by these two officers with the excellent help rendered by the section representatives and the semester representatives who formed a cabinet. Miss Marsh, Miss Hammond and Miss Dean, the faculty advisors of the S. O. S., assisted greatly in its various duties.

Money for the S. O. S. was raised by a membership drive, by the selling of candy during the dramatic productions given by the school, and by several other methods. At various times during the year as well as at Christmas time generous donations were given to such organizations as the Instructive Visiting Nurses' Society, the Bruen Home, the Christ Child Society, Friendship House and the Memorial Associated Charities. A Christmas tree was placed in one of the corridors and the presents of the school placed on it by the Tech students were given to the Children's Hospital and the Naval Hospital. Also, the annual donation of twenty-nine dollars was given to the Red Cross in memory of the Tech men killed in the World War. The S. O. S. has undertaken to have a fitting memorial erected for our Gold Star men. This memorial will be in the form of a bronze tablet.

The S. O. S. with ideals of service and sacrifice, is one of the most deserving organizations in the schools, and is worthy of the active support of every Techite.

The Officers' Club has been very successful this year, both in its social undertakings and its military duties.

The following will give you the latest happenings in the Officers' Club. The members, who had been ordered by the War Department to take up a new post at Fort Knott, Va. At this place we are welcomed by our new instructor, Major Kennedy, who since his arrival has been the greatest blessing a true friend and valuable helper.

The Club has succeeded in instilling a spirit of cooperation throughout the ranks of the regiment and consequently among the men of the ranks. The success or failure of the undertaking will be determined by our showing in the competitive drills.

The Past Cadet Year at Tech

DURING the past year a great change has been made in the cadet drill which has put this drill on a ranking basis with that of the regular United States Army. The close order drill was mostly effected by this important change, which requires a great deal more work than the drill of former years.

Major Kennedy, our faithful and efficient instructor, has declared that the military training obtained in the Cadet Corps should be taken advantage of by every boy, and he also compares the Cadet Corps to a small army. Visiting Army Officers have stated that the Washington High School Cadet Corps with its study of military science and strategy has become a model junior military unit, instead of a set of "Crack Companies," which drilled only three hours per week.

The greatest hope of every cadet, namely, winning the much-coveted "flag", is not attained by luck at all. Victory means that all the members of the winning company have worked together under their officers like the parts of a perfect machine. They have worked harder than the members of any other company and have won their honors. This logically proves that during the year each company has striven to surpass every other company.

In the past year the cadets have taken a great deal of interest in their work and have combined hard work with the "Old Tech Spirit" to make the Second Regiment what it should be—"Tech's Own." With Colonel Baird as leader, the Brigade has worked to raise the standard of the corps in general, making every effort to carry out this aim of all the commanding officers of the Second Regiment in the past year.

Under the efficient direction of Lieutenant-Colonel Irelan and such captains as Guthrie, Clements, Hugin, Denison and Manning, with their capable and hard working lieutenants, the Second Regiment has reached such a point of efficiency that we feel that Tech will not be neglected when the "Man of the Hour" turns to announce the winners.

Brigade and Regimental Officers

THIS year the Brigade Commander was hardly in doubt as to which school should receive the highest honors he had to bestow, as, in the final examinations, the highest grades were won by Lester Baird and Charles Irelan, both of Tech. The former was commissioned Colonel, and the latter was appointed to lead the Second Regiment as Lieutenant-Colonel. It also happened that all the Brigade officers came to Tech, with John Garner as Major, Brigade Adjutant, and Horace Hampton, also with the rank of Major, as Brigade Quartermaster. The Regimental officers consisted of Lieutenant-Colonel Irelan, and Captain, Regimental Quartermaster, Joseph A. Italiano.

The two majorities were awarded to Milton Dulin and John Deckleman. Richard Johnson, with the rank of first lieutenant, was appointed adjutant of the first battalion, while Gerard Snell, with the same rank, was appointed to act as adjutant of the second battalion.

Upon these officers has fallen the greater part of the work of the administration of the Brigade and second Regiment. The corps has had a most active and successful year, and the Second Regiment has been a marked success.

The Second Battalion

The ultimate object of all cadet training is success on the Competitive Drill Day. The cadets of the second battalion, of the second regiment, are very fortunate in having such fine officers and such loyal spirit throughout the whole battalion. Although the second battalion is composed of cadets from three high schools, McKinley, Business and Junior High, they have but one idea—that is, to win the battalion competitive drill. That spirit in every cadet, officer, and company has made possible the splendid cooperation in the battalion drills. It has been a very successful year for the second battalion.

ATHLETICS

The Year In Athletics

HIS ATHLETIC SEASON has been a successful one for Tech in many ways; unsuccessful in a few. In football, we could not desire to do better; in basketball we weren't much; in track, a fairly good indoor season was experienced, and the outdoor one has just begun; in baseball—that remains to be seen.

When the football season started, no one outside of perhaps the coaches and a few of the most optimistic rooters, thought that Tech had a chance to win the District of Columbia High School Championship. But what a surprise was sprung! Coach Hardell had turned out one of the cleverest football teams that any school had produced, and it clearly and decisively demonstrated its superiority over every cup contender.

The basketball team won but one game—against Business. The five was fairly and squarely outpointed in the series. Led by Captain Adams and coached by Mr. Sotzin, the team did its best, but here's hoping that it will do better next year.

The track team has been brought into the limelight mainly through the speed of Charley Pugh. Tech participated in three indoor meets. At the Penn A. C. Meet, Pugh, pitted against trackmen of world famed speed, with a five foot handicap, came third in the forty yard dash. In the Johns Hopkins meet, Kessler, who has never run before, won the 440 yard dash.

Tech has had some mighty fine coaches this year. Of these "Hap" Hardell stands out for his splendid work on the football and track teams. Credit is also due Mr. Spencer who helped coach the eleven. Mr. Sotzin had hard luck with the basketball teams, but just wait until next year. How Mr. Erickson's coaching of the nine turns out is yet to be seen.

Tennis was made a major sport this year, and although nothing has been done at this writing, Tech's outlook for the inter-high series is bright.

Some efforts were made to organize golf and swimming teams, but nothing definite has been accomplished.

The Year In Girls' Athletics

IN 1913 Miss Coope came to Tech as the first girls' gym teacher. She immediately started girls' sports in earnest. The variety of sports and the number of girls interested have increased steadily until there are now about a hundred girls out for basketball, swimming, tennis, track, and rifle.

A few years before Miss Coope's appointment to Tech, some of the teachers had gotten a few girls together for basketball. When an instructor of girls' sports was among the faculty, basketball grew quickly, and tennis was added. For a while hockey teams held championship games, but this sport was never very popular at Tech. Last year swimming and rifle practice were added to the list. The latest is an attempt at a track team. This suggestion was made this spring.

Last year a very successful tennis tournament was held. Sixteen girls signed up and the matches were played regularly and skillfully until the semi-finals. Four excellent players, Louise Hicke and Vincent Taylor, and Ruth Kelly and Dorothy Baumgarten, were competitors for final honors. These two games were put off and put off until summer had passed. Finally, Vincent Taylor and Dorothy Baumgarten won their respective matches. Then there was another period of waiting. The finals still have not been played.

Because of swimming practice and the popularity of the gym on our practice days, we decided to play basketball only one day a week and have each team play the other once, instead of twice. Even with this handicap four good teams were formed. The Senior and Sophomore teams soon showed their superiority, although with more practice the Juniors could probably have been quite as good. However, the Senior-Soph game was a problem. In the first game the Sophomores beat 21-6. Then another game was called, which the Seniors won by 20-10. Both of these games Miss Coope declared cancelled because of a quarrel. But as the Seniors had beaten the Juniors and the Juniors had defeated the Sophomores, the championship was awarded to the Senior Team. The Seniors were, therefore, awarded minor T's, the highest athletic recognition given girls. The swimming team certainly deserves the awards, for they have worked hard for four years, and their last team, the Champions, was a good combination.

The Class Prophecy of 1924

MEMBERS of the Tech graduating class of 1924 have become very famous. Perhaps the most prominent of all is James Whisman, who has risen to the office of President of the United States. Yesterday, in his daily message to Congress, Mr. Whisman suggested a bill providing for the election for life of the President of the United States. He is heartily supported in this respect by Stafford Jones, the most competent Secretary of the Treasury the United States has ever had. Captain Evans, night watchman at the Treasury, also endorses the bill. When Mr. Whisman was elected, strong opposition was furnished by Dorothy Baumgarten, who has established a record equal to that of William Jennings Bryan in being nominated for President. Her latest campaign manager is John Mitchell Tarducci Renaldez Hoyt. Mr. Hoyt, however, was put in the shade at the last Democratic convention by Mildred Kaiser, who made a thrilling speech nominating Dorothy Webb for President. Lester Baird, Secretary of War in Whisman's cabinet, recently decorated General Italiano for personal bravery. He also made "Wee Willie" Wellener captain in the Coast Guards. Marion Willet is now married to a famous army officer, and is living happily in the Philippines. Our old friend, Edna McNulty, also belongs to the circle of the elite. She is the wife of the Japanese Ambassador to the United States. She became accustomed to wearing pajamas in public in a play, in which she starred while at Tech.

Many of our class have gone in for the arts. Remember Ross Guthrie, the "ladies' man"? Well, he's in partnership with Flo Ziegfeld, teaching the chorus girls how to dance. The DeMarco brothers are touring the country as partners of Pavlova and Mae Murray, respectively. Leffel has a permanent job of charming snakes with his clarinet for the benefit of Keith's patrons. "Skinny" Stearns and Louise Hoeke have joined Pemberton, who is still trying to teach Tommy Marshall to dance. Alma Essex is introducing the American Tango in Argentine. All of these famous people are deeply grieved because Reverend John Fravel (not so reverend at all) is collaborating with Hugin in the world-wide lectures on "The Evils of the Modern Dance." These dancers do not think Fravel and Hugin are disloyal to the old Tech spirit. Speaking of dancing, Jack Cline is teaching the girls of Harrisburg to dance, so they can show visiting Tech teams a better time.

In another branch of the arts we also have many famous ex-Techites. There's John Schellhaas, who has taken Broadway by storm in the role of Hamlet. His famous quotation in the old days was, "If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well it were done quickly." Alice Chatelain, who is starring in Ophelia at the National, is supported by Betty Robbins in a minor role. Prentiss Taylor, the famous scene and costume designer, is having great difficulty in evading furious barbers. Mary Bumpus has at last realized her ambition. After ten years of having a one-line part in a modern production, she has been given two lines. Our old friend, Klivitzky, is stage manager at the Hippodrome in New York.

We have 'em in the movies too. Robert Moore is playing at the Palace this week in "Us Girls," written by Ted Olds, and "Muley" Henderson has recently been filmed with the wild west show, with which he travels. Many's the pony "Muley" broke in at Tech. And while we're talking of films, we might add that Parks is photographing Mack Sennett's Bathing Beauties.

Then we have some famous medical people. Bill Press is head surgeon at Freedman's hospital, and Lawrence Manning has a chain of four drug stores in Clarendon, fulfilling his motto of "one on every corner." These stores are supported mainly by the prescriptions issued by Dr. Mary Welburn, who has inherited Pa's practice, and issues mainly prescriptions for spiritus fermenti. Manning, in turn, nobly supports Clarendon's most breath-taking citizen, Harry Fravel, the village undertaker. Davita Ridings has a day nursery, and Ella Sherier, the famous canine specialist, is in charge of the Washington headquarters of the Animal Rescue League. Virginia Green and Lillian Gambin are nurses at Dr. Flournoy's sanitarium. Two Tech teachers who attempted to trace re-entries are there.

Many of our old friends have turned to the press and to the literary world. "Cotton" Thomas is author of the grammar text used in public high schools. This text book was recently revised by William Rider, a foremost authority and critic. Johnny Garner has written a book on "Why the World Needs Men Like Me." His wife, Agnes Christensen, has written a sequel to this, "Under Which Thumb Should the Husband Be Kept?" Doris Blanchard had her picture in the "Washington Eagle" as the girl with the largest collection of fraternity pins in the world. By the way, Snell is editor of that paper, the foremost of its kind in the country. Kathryn Baxter is editor of "Good Housekeeping," which just now is running one hundred of Sina Pedersen's choice recipes. Edith Bates does all the illustrating in the fashion department of this magazine. "Toodles" Warren is now editor of the "Hot Dog." Woodrow's picture recently appeared in the "Edinburgh News." It is taken in front of the University of Edinburgh, and he is wearing kilts. "Gus" Welsh is business manager of the "Police Gazette." Morton Gooch has succeeded McManus in writing "Bringing Up Father." He thoroughly understands and sympathizes with Jiggs. George Tew has lately written pamphlets telling how ambitious boys may get through high school in less than six years.

Many of the world's most famous athletes and sportsmen are former Techites. Freddy Middleton, the devoted husband of a former Tech girl, has succeeded in defeating Joie Ray on the cinder path. Stewart is breaking all records as a high flier. Ray Sim is competing for the golf championship at Olympia. Charlie Pugh, after twice being captain of the American all-high football team, is now captain of the tiddle-dy-winks team. Murphy and Lebowitz are competing for the heavy-weight championship of the world. Denty and Woodward are umpires in the American League, in which April and Dove are the two best catchers. Ehrman and McGann are selling peanuts at the ball park. Bill Drayton is now a motorcycle racer. He lately won the fifty thousand dollars offered by Enyart, the famous banker. Joe Marshall is champion toreador of Spain. We remember him well at Tech for his slinging of the bull.

Many of our class have become scholarly. Mason, Simpson, and Goldberger, still trying to find the true gradient of Marion Street, have at last issued a report which comes within six feet of that found in 1924. Ellwood Wilson, since deciphering the class prophecy of '24, has become an expert on hieroglyphics. Eleanor McKiege has a position at the Bureau of Standards, counting the joints in a flea's spinal column. Herman Riess is now President Emeritus of Baltimore Polytechnic. Hughes Evans has expounded a complete proof of the Einstein Theory. Bolton is still endeavoring to ascertain just why H.S. has the unpleasant odor very similar to that of over-ripe hen fruit. Freda Haas holds the chair of languages at the University of North Dakota. Norris prepares the final examination for West Point and Annapolis. Cleveland and Shook are famous geneologists.

Professor Westlake has almost discovered the difference between a permutation and a combination.

Several inventors and manufacturers blossomed from our class also. Caponetto has invented a new type of boot-black parlor, and is now the proud owner of a chain of them. Chauncey Harper has invented blackboards that do not have to be erased. Almon Martin manufactures an extraordinary type of brown derbies, patented by Sanders, while Irelan is now a prominent manufacturer of henna. He uses his own pictures for advertisement. Deckleman and Mostyn have invented an ice cutting machine which is highly successful.

Among ex-Techites in successful business enterprises are Funger and Epstein, who are doing well in a clothing business, in which Shinberg is head of the hat department. Plotnick is running a Kosha market on Seventh Street. Eldred and Wenner have a prosperous saw mill in Maine. Bryan is a "gold digger" in Alaska. Drissel, Gotthold, and Gaines are promoting real estate in Florida, while Helen Thran and Elizabeth Harry are promoting Lyon Park and Ivy City. Evelyn Henley is proprietor of the Green Grove Tea House. Pretty hostess, too! Thompson and Wiles have a salmon fishery on the Columbia River. Horace Hampton is running a sight-seeing tour for ladies only. Abel and Bruder now own the Roosevelt Apartments. They're making a success of it, too. Marjorie Stacey has a famous cabaret in Hawaii. Mensh has a wholesale grocery, dealing especially in rare fruit, bananas for instance. Hutton and Roche own an orange grove in California, and Hanback and Linger have an alligator farm there. Myers and Wolf raise the most famous gold fish in the world at their establishment at Thurmont. Burr, with his two canoes, runs a boat house on the Potomac. Eddie Denison, who still takes those moonlight trips in a cute canoe, is his chief patron. Killian, Lehmann, and Lowe have the sole agency for B. V. D.s in Alaska. Beany Brown is president of the pork trust. The wealthy Phillip Perry has recently donated a local house to the Washington chapter of Kappa Phi.

Some of our old friends have interesting jobs, too. Savage is a "Jewett" salesman here, and Ford sells autos of his own name. Names do get one a long way in life. Shoemaker is making radio sets for the unfortunate boys at Gallaudet. Burns and Close are selling clothespins in South Africa. Bill Dynes is still getting dates for Tech boys for free tea dances. Vance Caskey is one of Roxie's gang. Esther Byrne is chief telephone operator at East Falls Church. Mrs. Keith Small, formerly Evelyn Miller, now music teacher at Tech, is producing a comic opera composed by Anne Byler. The famous tenor, Leonard Davis, has visited several of the rehearsals and given much helpful advice. Parrott is employed by the people of Falls Church. His job is to find a route from Falls Church to civilization which requires no more than three and one-half hours to traverse. Mildred Koop is a prominent divorce court lawyer in Reno. Walter Williams and Douglas Wilson are exploring the wilds of Africa for the geological survey. Wengerd and Rosenblatt are prominent furriers on F Street.

Duehring and Clements are now posing for the Gold Dust Twins (more dust than gold), and James Riley poses for advertisements of grey trousers. Lingeback and Smallwood are floorwalkers at Hecht's. "Ham" Adams is now chief bouncer at Child's. He's very well adapted to the job, we should say. Roger Staley is manager of Nunnally's. He says he feels perfectly at home. Ross Gessford is telling bedtime stories over the radio station C. O. D.

LaMar has risen to the presidency of the great B. and O. Railway System. He employs Ward Greenwood, who, after training his voice when

T H E T E C H I T E 1 9 2 4

Cheer Leader at Tech, now uses it to advantage as train caller at Union Station.

Reynolds, the famous lecturer and president of the Anti-Tobacco League, has written a book on "How Nicotine Has Stunted My Growth." Bernice Dulin, also a famous orator, spoke at the Barbers' Convention on "How to Make Your Man Fall in Love with You All Over Again after Having Your Hair Bobbed." Gertrude Quistorf also spoke, the subject being, "My Own Method of Hair Curling." Esther Gottwalls demonstrated a new permanent wave. Christine Block, president of the Y. W. C. A., announced a beauty lecture by Ruth Naylor on "Beauty vs. Bobbed Hair."

Oh, yes, and our old friend Maloney has developed a special attraction for the ladies. His latest flame is Regina Graham. We understand Jouvenal is still waiting for that Forest Glen car, and—

We will have disappeared the day this yearbook comes off the press.

Devotedly,

GRACE LALEGER, Prophetess,

JOHN DALY, Prophet.

The Last Will and Testament of the Class of June, 1924

HEREAS, we the Class of June, 1924, being of sound mind and reason, do hereby bequeath all our property, real and unreal, personal and impersonal, in the following manner; to wit:—

ARTICLE ONE; TO WIT:

To dear old Tech, our school, we leave the fondest memory of happy days gone by; of pleasures never to be forgotten, though we are to leave those halls of fame we love so much.

ARTICLE TWO; TO WIT:

To Mr. Daniel, Mr. Woodward, and the members of the faculty, the Senior Class leaves its deepest appreciation and thanks for all that has been done for them.

The class owes its success as a class to those untiring, conscientious senior section teachers, especially Miss Stewart, Miss Smith, Miss Bastian, and Mr. Mitchell, and we hope that happiness and prosperity may follow them all the days of their lives.

ARTICLE THREE; TO WIT:

Our honorable president, John Henry Schellhaas, leaves his executive ability to "Benny" Detweiler, and his dramatic ability to "Freddy" Linton.

"Charlie" Pugh leaves his football leadership to his kid brother, "Bobbie," in order that it may be kept in the family. We wish him success in upholding the standards set by his brothers.

"Fuzzy" Hoyt and "Louie" Lebowitz bequeath the sum of their heights to "Dick" Johnson.

Claudius Claiborn Meigs Close, "Ernie" Woodrow, and Willie Roche leave their "Young Bachelor's Corner" at "Doc" Simpson's to the aspiring young sheiks in the junior class.

"Kewpie" Baumgarten and Edith Bates, the inseparable two, leave their athletic abilities to Ruth Parsons and Mary Tew.

Ward Greenwood leaves his ability to impersonate a track star to George Killian.

"Willie" Wellener and "Skinny" Stearns leave their ways with the women to "Gene" Dulin, who will undoubtedly use them to the best advantage.

"Bill" Press and Grace Laleger will their "beat" on Eighth Street to Glenn Hurley and Margaret Stabler.

Our famous editor of Tech Life, Gerard Snell, leaves his journalistic ability to John Mauchley and Frank Winant.

"Betty" Robbins leaves her ability to gossip to Jeanie Williams, who has been amply tutored by the aforesaid Miss Robbins during the present school year.

Colonel Baird, H. C. S., leaves his diamonds to Carolyn Pitchlynn, and his success as colonel, we hope, to another deserving "Techite."

Boris Klivitzky leaves his oratorical ability to "Charlie" Crowder.

"Eddie" Denison bequeaths "the skin you love to touch" to "Bennie" Munroe.

T H E T E C H I T E 1 9 2 4

"Johnnie" Daly leaves mimeographed copies of his Burke brief to the entire Junior Class. This will establish a standardized Burke brief, which may be used indefinitely, provided the necessary precautions are taken.

"Our twins," "Dot" Webb and "Kay" Baxter, bequeath their popularity to Fannybelle Tenney and Carolyn Snell.

"Muley" Henderson and "Beanie" Brown leave their classified index of excuses to all of those unfortunate souls, who are to be exposed to Burke.

Captain Manning, Ambassador from Clarendon, leaves his affairs of state to Alvin O'Halloran.

Ross Guthrie, the blushing young man from Chevy Chase, leaves many broken and bent hearts among the fairer sex.

Alma Essex and Alice Chatelain leave their artistic talents to Eleanor Devore and Margaret Mitchell.

"Pat" Murphy bequeaths his latest literary creation, "Why Girls Leave Home," to the school library.

Funger and Epstein, "the gold dust twins," leave their ability to obtain "mutual" current events topics in economics, to Bobys and Rose.

Hughes Evans and Elick Norris leave their abilities in scholarship to William Shoemaker and Janet Frost.

Dove, April, McGann, and Wilson leave their abilities on the diamond to next year's aspiring "Babe Ruths" and "Walter Johnsons."

"Seaweed" Hampton wills his Henry Ford Bus Line patrons to the Washington Railway and Electric Company. This mode of transportation has been a great asset to Friendship Heights and will be missed exceedingly by the natives of said city.

"Johnnie" Garner and Agnes Christensen leave the secret of "how to study together successfully" to those underclassmen who will desire to practice it.

"Toodles" Warren, "Gus" Welsh and Wellman Parks leave to the school, through their efforts, probably the finest year book Tech has ever had.

To the incoming rookie class, Ehrman and Maloney bequeath their playfulness, particularly as exhibited in Business Law Class.

ARTICLE FOUR; TO WIT:

Know all men by these presents: That we have hereby signed and sealed and published and declared this instrument, as our last will and testament, at McKinley Manual Training School, also known as Technical High School, McKinley High School, and Tech, at the "Four Oaks" at midnight, on the fourteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred twenty-four.

SENIOR CLASS OF JUNE, 1924.

In the presence of Andrew J. Gump, Notary Public, X. Y. Z.
Bernard (Barney) Google, Witness.
Charles M. Irelan, Lawyer.

And I, at their request and in the presence of others, have hereby drawn up this instrument for them, and signed my name as an ascribing witness.

CHARLES MORRIS IRELAN, JR.,
Lawyer, Class of June, 1924.

Farewell!

FREQUENTLY the child must leave its home;
As often the brothers have to separate.—
So we, the graduates of 1924
Must leave our foster-mother, dear McKinley.
And with smiling, tearful faces, bid
Each other, so sincerely, "God be with you."

Thou hast been our guide, dear old Tech High,
Our ready helper these decisive years,
Our teacher in those things that we should know
To live aright, and give our best to others.
We have joined activities, and they
Have been a constant source of happiness.
Your victories have caused us joy; a loss
Brought gloom into our hearts; yet all along
We've loved and willingly supported thee.

And now we go from thee, McKinley High,
To travel in a world unknown to us,
Experience new experiences, and taste
The ways of life; they will not all be sweet
From some delightful flavor; no, some will be
Pleasant, some unpleasant; but we'll fight,
And struggling onward, do our best to reach
A height yet unattained by man. That's our Ambition; and though lofty, 'tis sincere.

Good-by, dear Tech. Through struggles, triumphs, fortunes,
And in our memories thou shalt ever dwell,
A source of inspiration and delight.

GERARD SNELL, '24.

Illustrations for School and College Year Books

ANNUALS for schools and colleges are kept in the higher class by using the facilities of our plant for producing their illustrations. We do not make a special drive to obtain a large aggregate of this class of illustrations, but every year we are called upon to produce the plates for a better class of Year Books. In 1923 we made the plates for about twenty schools and colleges and are engaged upon about the same number this year.

All of the work we turn out for this purpose is of our usual high standard and is not slighted because of the fact that our volume of output at this season is materially increased. Our extensive facilities easily take care of the additional load.

We make very close prices for Year Book plates.
